SERVICE TO BROADMOOR, WESTLAKE SLATED TO BEGIN OCTOBER 27

Long-awaited transportation service for south Daly City, Broadmoor and Westlake will be realized Oct. 27 when re-routing of the No. 76 bus will take place.

Decision to provide the new service for those areas came Tuesday night at a meeting of the San Francisco Public Utilities commission.

San Francisco authorities said that the matter, though it has been pending more than two months, was delayed because of a heavy agenda before the utilities commission. The group voted unanimously for incorporation of the new route in the muni schedule.

An additional bus will be added to the route, thus giving half-hour service. Time for a complete trip for one bus will be an hour.

C. D. Miller, general manager of the municipal railway, said that signs would be posted at bus stops as soon as possible.

The new route, the commission said, is only temporary until completion of the Southgate extension, which will be in about a year.

The No. 76 bus will take the following route, beginning Oct. 27: From Daly City terminal via Mission to School, 87th, MacArthur, Larchmont, east on 87th, Maddux, Southgate, Dorchester, Alemany extension, Junipero Serra to Worchester, then to connect with the M, 28 and 36 lines.

The return trip will follow the same route in reverse.

Complete round trip will traverse 11½ miles, Miller said.

Out Of This Scene Will Arise 2500 New Homes In Westlake

MACHINES MAKE THE EARTH GIVE WAY here where grading is getting underway on the site which will soon accommodate 2500 new homes in the Westlake area. Mammoth sewage pipes can be seen at left. Houses will be patterned after those already constructed in Westlake. The homes, on completion, will house approximately 7000 new residents.

LOCAL FISHERMAN DIES AFTER FALL FROM VESSEL

Daly City commercial fisherman Dominic Ippolito, 35, died aboard his fishing vessel, Lenoette last Thursday after falling overboard 60 miles west of the Golden Gate, according to police.

Frank Clima, Ippolito's partner, said he was in the boat's galley when Ippolito fell overboard. Upon returning to shore Clima told police that Ippolito managed to catch a trailing fishing line, but succumbed shortly after being pulled aboard.

Ippolito suffered head injuries as he was pulled aboard at the boat's stern, Clima said.

The San Francisco coroner officers reported Ippolito apparently died of drowning. A formal inquest will be held Tuesday, according to the San Francisco police.

The native of Italy died within a day of his birthday, October 10. He had been a resident of this city 18 years.

He is survived by his wife, Madeline; three children, Angela, Vincent, and Carmine; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincenzo Ippolito, and three brothers, John, Anthony and Corrado.

Funeral services were held in San Francisco Monday from Valente, Marini, Peralta & Co. mortuary. Mass was said at the church of the Visitacion. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery, Colma.

Claims On Increase, City Officials Say

City Administrator Dan Andersen said yesterday on his return from the California League of Cities convention in San Diego that some type of safety education program would have to be inaugurated for city employees here in light of the present trend toward high damage payments in tort cases.

Arthur Sullivan, San Mateo county manager, presented the cities' view in damage claims in a panel held at the convention. Insurance men were also present to present their side.

During the panel it was pointed out that claims awarded against cities for injuries were making a steady increase.

It was also added that the public should be educated to their duty owed the city when serving jury duty in these civil cases.

Peninsula Group Of City League Draws Resolution

A committee of the League of Cities Peninsula division, headed by City Administrator Dan Andersen, drew up a resolution to be presented to the state legislature at the League's convention in San Diego which ended Wednesday.

The resolution calls for the legislature to pass a law requiring subdividers outside city limits to build to normal city specifications. It was presented at the convention on the opening day, Monday.

Andersen said that intent of such a law would be to force builders of tracts such as Broadmoor and San Mateo Junior Estates to build their streets, sewers, and lot according to city zoning ordinances, and with appropriate setbacks.

Local officials attending the convention were Andersen, Paul Selmi, city treasurer, and Frank Blum, city attorney.

Two crews of thieves were at work Monday in Daly City but did not realize a very substantial profit.

They forced a front door, but apparently were frightened away. Angelo Ricci, owner, said the safe, which has been left open accidentally, was not touched. Inside it was $60 in cash and $300 in checks.

The same evening three service station Coca Cola dispensing machines were broken into and coin boxes containing a total of $9 were removed, according to police. SF--STATE IN CONTROVERSY OVER LAND AT JUNIPERO SERRA--KNOWLES

San Francisco Seeks To Lease For Building

A controversy which began last week between the city of San Francisco and the State over property at Knowles avenue and Junipero Serra in Daly City came up for discussion Tuesday night at a meeting of the San Francisco Public Utilities commission.

It was agreed to turn the matter over to the state's district engineer.

Will Lose Revenue

By leasing the property at the intersection of the two thoroughfares, San Francisco might realize as much as $400,000 over a 20-year period.

However, the State Highway commission announced previously that it would condemn the land if San Francisco makes any move to improve it, since the state asserts the property will eventually be needed for construction of an overpass from Junipero Serra boulevard and Daly City to the Westlake subdivision.

R. J. MacDonald, secretary of the utilities commission, said that the city is concerned over the amount the state will give for the land. At present a lease for a four-and-a-half acre site at the intersection has been offered by the Callan Realty company. This lease would bring the city approxi-

Memorial Building Is Site For Meeting

Nearly 70 civic minded citizens and public officials banded together Monday night to hear the facts on the three local bond issues coming up for a vote at a special election Oct. 28.

Some of the questions brought up were: "Why has a special election been called when the people will go to the polls again Nov. 4? Why wasn't the War Memorial building completed with the original money acquired by issuing of bonds? Are estimates of costs for completion of the building accurate? What is the $3000 listed under 'preliminary' to be used for towards completion of the building? How long will the citizens of Daly City have to wait for completion of the building if the bonds are passed?

All these questions were answered by persons present.

Special Election

Regarding the special election for the bonds, Councilmen Paul Green and Mayor Tony Gaggero explained that it was unavoidable. Due to the fact that there are 26 state propositions and four county propositions besides the national contests, the county clerk could not allow further city issues to be entered on the ballot, they said.

All persons interested have been invited to attend another meeting of the citizens' group which will gather at 8:30 Monday night at the War Memorial building, Al Sundstrom, chairman of the steering committee, has announced. The three city bond issues will be discussed and questions are invited from the audience.

Councilman Green, speaking of the additional cost of completing the War Memorial building, said outbreak of the Korean war was responsible. He said that the bond issue passed just prior to the war, and when bids were received shortly after, they were far in excess of original estimates. The Council at that time decided that it would be adviseable to go ahead and do what could be done with money available.

Ciampi Speaks

Mario Ciampi, architect who designed the building, said that all sub-contractors involved had been called in and estimates were drawn up with exactness He explained that the $3000 listed under preliminary cost entailed a great many things. Among them he listed office overhead, clerks, insurance expenses, building permit and other incidentals preparatory to beginning work.

Ciampi also said that the building would be complete no longer than six months after the bond issue was passed. Breakdown on the time was given by Ciampi as follows: Advertising for bids, three or four weeks; final action in awarding of contract, three or four weeks; actual completion of work, four months at the maximum. Work can begin before the bonds are sold, it was pointed out by councilmen present.

Fire Chief's Warning

Speaking on the necessity of passage of the $173,500 fire bond, Chief Elmer Kennedy said that it was imperative that the departments gain additional facilities so that lives and property in Daly City may not be in peril. He said it is not a matter of whether Daly City might be better off with additional equipment, but that Daly City must have it.

Arthur J. Bodien, supervisor of the Water department, spoke on the $390,000 water bond, saying that the water supply here now is at a critical point. Addition of

OFFER GUIDED TOUR

During the next two weekends the War Memorial building will be open to the public for their inspection.

At Monday night's citizens meeting it was announced that the Fire department would be on hand to escort interested persons through the nearly completed structure.

Mayor, Council Express Approval Of Service

Mayor Tony Gaggero and members of the city council today expressed satisfaction with the city of San Francisco's move to provide additional transportation service to the people of Daly City.

Gaggero said, however, the council recognizes that there are still certain sections of the city without adequate transportation facilities. "We will continue to seek cooperation of the public utilities commission in securing transportation for these areas," Gaggero added.

Long-Time Local Resident Dies

Mrs. Ida Reiman, 59, one of the early pioneers of Daly City, passed away here recently.

The well-known local woman, wife of William H. Reiman of this city, had been a resident here 30 years after coming from Illinois, her native state.

She had lived with her husband at the same home on 81 Alexander avenue since arriving here.

Surviving relatives are: Mr. Reiman, husband; Mrs. Jane Noryko, daughter; Judy, William and Michael Noryko, grandchildren; Mrs. May Senkosky Mott and Mrs. Edna Alexander, sisters; John, William and Bryan Uts, brothers.

Funeral services were held from Gantner, Felder & Kenny in San Francisco.

Interment was at Cypress Lawn Memorial park.

Allen was first picked up Thursday by local police, who had been summoned by Mrs. Patrick Bryant, 269 Hillcrest drive. She said Allen, who lives at 275 Hillcrest drive, had been molesting her daughter by making remarks about marrying her. Mrs. Bryant said he also watched the girl whenever she went in or out of the house.

Four Daly City Polio Cases In September

Four cases of polio were reported in Daly City during the month of September, according to the morbidity report issued by the San Mateo County Public Health division.

Dr. Harold Chope, director of the County Health department, said that the four cases of polio reported for Daly City was a good deal higher than normal.

However, he pointed out the incidence of the disease has not yet reached epidemic proportions here ore elsewhere in the county.

The number of polio cases begins to rise each year about May or June and reaches a peak usually in October, Chope said.

Other diseases here for September were: German measles, 1; Pneumonia, 1; scarlet fever, 1; syphyllis, 1.

Community Center's Modern Gymnasium Put To Good Use

UNDER THE LIGHTS of the War Memorial building's functional gymnasium are seated many interested Daly City residents at a citizens' meeting Monday night on the three coming city bond issues. At a session lasting more than two hours, many queries on the three issues were made by those in attendance. During the meeting more persons arrived, nearly filling all available seats.

mately $20,000 a year in revenue if San Francisco will permit construction of a motel, automobile agency, furniture store, bar and other businesses.

Poor Yield Now

The land is now yielding about $50 a year, and for that reason, MacDonald said, the city fears that the state will see fit to offer a small price for purchase of the land.

MacDonald said the matter will be referred immediately to the district engineer's office.

Suggest Relocation

The utilities commission will suggest to the state highway group that the overpass, probably of the cloverleaf variety, be relocated. However, MacDonald said, if plans for the overpass are already drawn up, there is slight chance for moving the site.

The land concerned, located within Daly City limits, has been owned by the city of San Francisco since 1930.

All the members of Daly City's auxiliary police have also given their endorsement to passage of the bonds.

Injuries Not Critical

Daly City Woman Reported Resting Well After Automobile Rolls Over Four Times

Mrs. Wilhelmina W. Botticher, 34, of 1230 Seventh avenue was reported to be in good condition by authorities at the Junipero Serra hospital this week after she had suffered what were believed to have been serious injuries in an accident last Thursday.

Mrs. Botticher was said to be in critical condition Friday. At that time hospital attendants believed she had suffered a possible broken neck.

However, it was later discovered her injuries were limited to bruises and puncture wounds.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Botticher, who is a bacteriologist at University of California hospital, was northbound on the highway about one mile north of Montara when she lost control of her car, according to the highway patrol. The auto plunged off the roadway, rolled over four times and came to rest on its top.

State Approves Funds For Building New 20-Room Addition To Colma School

Preparation for start of work on a 20-room addition to Colma school has been launched by Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School district.

Their action followed advice from Sacramento that the building state fund allocation committee had approved their plan of acquiring 12 acres adjacent to the school for the $990,000 building project.

Construction has been held up while the allocation board considered a plan of building on the present site or acquiring more land.

Contracts have been let for the construction, but beginning was delayed until the state decision came through.

The extra land will be used for playground areas in addition to school explansion.

The Colma school, sometimes called the Market street school, now provides facilities for 517 students. The supplementary rooms will increase the school's potential to 1100 students in the grammar school grades.

The schools expansion was occasioned by population increases in the Broadmoor, Garden Village and Westlake areas.

Trustees voiced hopes for having the additions completed in time for the fall term next year.

LIONS PREPARING TO TAKE OVER SERVICE STATION

Local Lions are anticipating a big day for themselves on Nov. 8, when the club will take over Arneson's Chevron station for a day.

Lions will work in shifts at the station, which will be under their care 12-15 hours.

However, their efforts won't be in vain, since all the proceeds will go to them and thence to the Lions Youth Welfare fund.

The club members will don their old togs and will grease cars, supply gas, oil and render other services usually found at a gas station. The Lions are looking forward to serving as many local residents as possible.

CITY PLANNERS HOLD MEETING

At Tuesday night's meeting of the Planning Commission application of Mrs. Ruby Arabie to operate a bird and fish house at 3320 San Jose avenue was denied because of conflicting use in that zone.

The commission also agreed to recommend to the City Council that Mr. and Mrs. A. Virelio create an easement of ten feet between lots 383-384 on Flournoy and Mission to give access to the rear of their building on lot 384.

Application for a car lot on Mission and East Lake was refused until time when more details on the sanitary facilities and retaining walls there could be supplied by the applicants.

Moving of a home from 17 Bepler street was denied by the commission until time when the owner sends further specifications as to modernization being planned there.

Application was also denied for building of a cabinet shop on Bismark street because the area is zoned residential.

The planning commission went in favor of issuing a permit to Jenning Construction Co. for building homes on Niantic street between Knowles avenue and North Parkview as soon as the firm supplies them with blueprints of the homes.

Also approved was the construction and remodeling of the Rio Grande Oil station at School street and Werner avenue.

It was also agreed to recommend to the Council that section 2 of Ordinance No. 314 be amended to provide that fire zone 1 be determined by use. Reason for this is that undue hardship has been made upon some builders whose establishments are nonhazardous.

Next meeting of the commission will be held November 18.

Daly City citizens seem loathe to be a member of the twelve men good and true.

Out of 50 persons subpoenaed to serve at a jury trial Tuesday, a full jury has yet to be formed.

100 YEARS EXPERIENCE

Harnessing the water power of the Sierra

1852 — Water was first put to work in Sierra gold mines served by South Yuba Water Co., a P. G. and E. parent.

1889 — Water power became electric power in this early Electra plant. Former hydraulic miners helped build it.

1949 — Getting the most out of water power, this compact new Electra has five times the capacity of the old plant.

All through the Sierra country you'll see P. G. and E. hydro-electric plants taming mountain water to bring power to you. Here, as elsewhere on our system, careful management and constantly improved efficiency have helped reduce electric rates far below the U. S. average. Today you pay $2.50, on the average, for electricity that would have cost $20 in 1889. This century of P. G. and E. experience has made good electric and gas service truly cheap throughout Northern and Central California.

THE RECORD RECOMMENDS

Pasage of the three city bond issues to come before the voters of Daly City is not merely desirable, it is a must.

Completion of the War Memorial building, increased facilities for the water and fire departments are crucial matters facing the citizens of Daly City.

If money is not voted for completion of the building, it is probable that this structure will stand for years in a state of non-use and deterioration. If the money were taken all at once out of the general fund it would seriously weaken the financial structure of the city. Therefore, the only recourse would be to alot money piecemeal for improvements, a practice which would be anything but desirable.

The fire bonds may be termed as valuable as life and property. For they will both be endangered if facilities for fighting fire here are not augmented. And the increase in fire insurance rates alone, in event the bond does not pass, will cost more than redemption of the bond.

As for water facilities, no one can blind themselves to the fact that the city's rapid rate of growth has superceded any improvements in water facilities here. At present the supply has reached its peak. No more water may be made available under the present set up, and yet the city continues to grow. The facts cannot be denied. With pasage of the water bonds, a community of 35,000 could be served. In light of present growth, that time isn't too far off.

At a very low cost, from $1 to $1.50 for an average family, the essential projects can be realized.

A "yes" vote on Oct. 28 will provide a solution to the present problems.

Monday Night's Turnout A Welcome Sight

The turnout at Monday night's citizens meeting on the three city bonds was a good sight to see.

It is those people who gathered there that night asking questions, not content to merely bear the fruit of a whispering campaign, that make for the nucleus for a better community.

Those attending did not go merely to sit through a series of speeches, but instead to clear themselves up on a few points which had bothered them personally.

Those who get their inside dope while standing at a cigar counter, rubbing elbows at their favorite tavern, or any place else where conversation thrives, no doubt form a good many opinions also, but seldom do these opinions get past their immediate friends.

Then, alas, when some issue is carried, the hot-stove debaters are up in wrath because things have gone contrary to their private wishes, which seldom got beyond earshot of two or three people.

The rumor that the floor of the War Memorial building would cave in if more than a few dozen people stand there no doubt began with such esoteric gabfests. Yet such rumors are sometimes acclaimed as truth by those too lax to see for themselves.

Questioning by the group at Monday night's meeting was honest and unequivocal. Docile acceptance of all things is the rule with many citizens, but an acute civic interest was shown at this week's gathering.

We believe, as no doubt the bond steering committee will, that meetings such as the one held Monday night are a health thing for Daly City.

Drives Get Contributors All In A Dither

We believe that, in future United Crusade drives, some effort should be made by the solicitors to explain to persons outside the City and County of San Francisco that money donated by them does not go to local agencies.

While the United Crusade is a worthwhile project, it can act in detriment to local drives, such as the Community Chest.

Many persons in Daly City, who had already decided to allot a certain amount to welfare, gave the amount to the Crusade, and thus left their local drive wanting.

We do not blame the donators a bit, nor can we find fault with any undertaking such as the United Crusade.

Nevertheless, we do believe it is only fair that money donated by local people should be credited to local drives.

Much In Registration To Encourage Both Factions

Both the Democrats and the Republicans can find much to encourage them in the California registration statistics.

Between the June primary election and the closing date for the general election, the Democrats gained 53,000 more registered voters than the Republicans. On the other hand, the overall totals as compared with those of four years ago, show the GOP with 547,536 more adherents while their rivals have gained but 420,629. The latter are still well ahead however, with 3,312,912 affiliates as against 2,455,706 for the Republicans.

Just how much party labels will mean in California when November comes is a matter of conjecture. One poll indicates that General Eisenhower is favored almost 2 to 1 over Governor Stevenson among the voters as a whole. That may be an accurate reflection of public sentiment or it may not be. We can't forget 1948.

On the national scene the Gallup Poll gives the general a big edge personally, but only a small margin to the Republican party. Among those who have definitely made up their minds and those that have a "leaning" toward one or the other party, the Gallup figures show 49 per cent favoring the GOP and 45 per cent for the Democrats. Six per cent remain undecided. The trend, says Gallup, favors the Democrats since they showed a gain over an earlier survey.

The way to get the real low down is to wait until November 5.

Talk Of Labor Vote Used Indiscriminately

A lot of politicos talk as though the labor vote were some kind of a give-away prize that, with much fanfare, can be awarded to one candidate or another when powerful labor leaders finally make a decision. For several years politicians have used the phrase so indiscriminately that one is led to the conclusion that they really believe there is such a thing—a big "labor vote" with no brains of its own, captive and waiting to be tossed into one political camp or the other on the say-so of labor chieftans. But this is far from the truth. The record proves, repeatedly, that the vote of American labor cannot be delivered by a union boss or group of bosses.

Labor, as referred to in the phrase "labor vote" is accepted generally meaning members of unions. But they, like everyone else, are free to use the secret ballot. John L. Lewis, as powerful as any of the labor bosses, once ordered his United Mine Workers to vote against Franklin D. Roosevelt, but the order went unheeded. In Ohio the unions were not swayed by all the devices used by the CIO's Political Action Committee in its effort to defeat Senator Taft, co-author of the law that their leaders continually deride and condemn.

It is plain that union labor cannot be voted by bosses. The working man's vote . . . will be cast on a personal basis following what each considers his own and, let us hope the country's best interests. (Hartford Courant).

ROKs Are Making Good Account Of Themselves

Korea's boys have become men. The same army which fell apart under the impact of the North Korean attack in June of 1950 is now battling the enemy to a standstill.

What has accounted for this miraculous change from two years ago? Were the Koreans of 1950 afraid to fight? Have they acquired a courage which they did not have at that time?

The soldiers of Korea are brave men. They always have been. But when they first faced the invaders their weapons were outmoded, they had nothing to match or to stop the heavy Soviet-built tanks which rumbled across the 38th parallel. The aid that was rushed in within a few days was not of first class fighting caliber. The American boys thrust into battle had been trained for little more than occupation duty. So, it is little wonder that the Koreans buckled under the pressure and were of little use in defending their land in the early days of the struggle.

But the reorganizing and revitalizing of the Korean Army has been going on in the meantime. Modern weapons have been provided. The men have been thoroughly schooled in their use. New confidence has been built up. Now the Republic of Korea forces are the match of those anywhere in the world.

All this is important not only because it proves the Koreans to be good fighters, but because it demonstrates that those in Asia who see eye to eye with us in the quest for freedom are willing and able to carry part of the load—if properly equipped and trained.

Korea OFFERS US new hope.

Information Director Of OPS Says Many Errors In Article By Feature Service

Dear Editor:

On September 18 you reprinted in your editorial column a piece of boiler plate from the Whittaker-Baxter Advertising Agency California Feature Service of September 15, entitled, "Fresh Air for Mr. Woods."

I am sure you rely in good faith on the factual accuracy of this material, but when it departs seriously from the facts, I think you might become somewhat concerned. This is such a case.

The Whittaker-Baxter item said, in part: "Interest in the controls issue was lively, vigorously expressed, and for the most part angrily opposed to the program." It simply is not a fact that opinion expressed in the meetings held by Mr. Woods in Fresno was "for the most part angrily opposed to the program." The fact is that only about three women at the consumers meeting expressed opposition to controls. All the rest expressed an opinion demanding more effective controls. Nor was it true the opinion at the separate meeting with grocers representatives was "for the most part angrily opposed to controls." Once again, opinion among grocers is divided. A few are opposed to controls in general, and to community pricing in particular, but most recognize the necessity for controls during this emergency period, and are in favor of community pricing, which eliminates all bookwork on the part of the grocer for all of the 400 odd items on the list.

This difference of opinion was reflected at the meeting. When the community pricing program was temporarily abandoned for lack of funds in Fresno for a month this summer, over three quarters of the grocery stores left the posters up, and there was the strongest pressure from consumer organizations to resume the program.

The Whittaker-Baxter item says: "One after another housewife rose to ask Mr. Woods why inflation in living costs has run on just the same through late years—irrespective of whether controls were rigid, flexible or in abeyance." This happens to be a complete mis-statement of fact. Not one single housewife at the meeting asked such a question or made such a comment. Tape recordings of the entire meeting were made by CBS and furnished to me. I will be glad to make them available you at any time, should you desire to listen for yourself.

Even aside from the point that Fresno housewives did not so question Mr. Woods, the statement that "inflation in living costs has run on just the same through late years — irrespective of whether controls were rigid, flexible or in abeyance," is not true as a matter of fact.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the overall cost of living increased at the rate of one per cent per month during the eight month between the beginning of the Korea struggle and the time when the OPS general freeze took effect—or a total increase of eight per cent in eight months. In the nineteen months since OPS took hold, the overall cost of living has increased a little more than three per cent.

Finally, CFS "Fresh Air" item opened with a quote from Mr. Woods to the effect that in Washington "One often becomes surrounded with a wall of dead air." This is an accurate quote, but incomplete. Mr. Woods went on to say that in Washington there were more than 6000 OPS industry advisory groups "bombarding him with advice to raise prices but only consumer advisory committee," as the San Francisco Examiner put it.

Sincerely yours,
James P. Keene, Jr.

Superior Court Judge Lauds The Record For Informing Readers on Need for Bonds

The Record
Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

At this time I would like to thank you for the excellent cooperation you have given me and the entire Probation Department in informing the thousands of new people in our county about the need for additions to the San Mateo County Juvenile Hall, as covered in the $400,000 bond issue coming before the people on Nov. 4th. If we by chance should lose this bond issue it most certainly will not be for lack of cooperation on the part of the newspapers.

As we move into the last mile of this campaign, I would like to request of you a favorable consideration with respect to an editorial endorsement on this bond issue by your paper. I believe that considerable factual and statistical material has already been placed at your disposal. If, after your perusal of this material you still feel that there are some questions in your mind which you would like to have answered in order to decide whether or not you should endorse this bond issue, please do not hesitate to contact Mr. John S. Cowgill, County Probation Officer, who will do everything in his power to secure the necessary answers to your questions.

I think you should know that to date the following organizations have endorsed the bond issue, with other endorsements arriving in the mail each day:

17th District (San Mateo County) California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc.

Central Labor Council of San Mateo County.

Associated Plumbing Contractors of San Mateo County.

The League of Women Voters.

The Peninsula Council of Church Women.

The Council of Social Agencies.

The Redwood City Woman's Club.

Bar Association of San Mateo County.

San Mateo County Grand Jury.

Knights of Columbus—San Mateo Council No. 1346.

Disabled American Veterans, Chapter No. 16—San Mateo.

26th District (San Mateo County) American Legion.

The 40 et 8 Societe—Voiture No. 393.

Thanking you once again for your cooperation in this matter, I remain,

Heavy Protest

The San Bruno city hall was besieged with a flood of protests last weekend over a scheduled "off-the-record" dinner meeting of the city council, planning commissioners, school trustees and navy officials Tuesday night.

Telephones at the city hall started ringing early Thursday afternoon. Members of the Mills Park association called to ask why no one but the four groups could be present at the meeting. The association had previously expressed opposition to the project on the grounds it would bring an estimated 1200 new children into San Bruno Park district schools.

Capt. H. F. Ransford, Twelfth Naval district public works official, previously had told the council that the navy would try to have land allocated for school sites in the project. As now planned, the project will be just outside city limits.

Servicemen Eagerly Await Receiving Letters and Home Town Newspapers

Dear Sir:

I received a letter from my brother, Charles Harry Johnson, who is now in Korean Waters aboard the U.S.S. Oriskany, thanking you for sending him THE RECORD.

He says the only thing the boys look forward to is mail call. A letter from home or the home town newspaper really boosts a service man's morale. However, he states that he receives THE RECORD only once a month and would like to get it every week.

I would appreciate it, as well as my brother, if he could get our newspaper as often as possible.

Thank you,

Judge Thomas L. Bocci Endorses Passage of Proposition on Taxation

Dear Sir:

I enclose herewith a statement of my endorsement favoring proposition 3 and would appreciate such publicity that you may give to my endorsement thereof. Your kind courtesy in this matter will be sincerely appreciated.

Very truly yours,
Thomas L. Bocci, Jr.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci, Jr., in an interview with the press concerning his position in the matter of proposition 3, which would exempt taxation on all non-profit schools, strongly urged that all right thinking American citizens vote yes. Judge Bocci stated, "Proposition 3 has as its ultimate purpose the equality in taxation which is a fundamental precept of the liberties guaranteed to us by our constitution. Certainly a contrary vote would be a denial of these rights which we as individuals not only expect, but demand as part of our heritage as American citizens. When your state assembly voted unanimously 'with one dissenting vote' in passing this legislation, before it was placed on the ballot by referendum, it was an overwhelming endorsement of an enactment long needed in California. Their endorsement came only after thorough study and committee work by all concerned and all groups given an opportunity to submit their opinion and voice their protest. Additionally all other states of the union, other than California, have this same legislation in effect. Can anyone honestly and conscientiously justify a no vote, the record revealing every reason for every right thinking citizen to vote yes on proposition 3."

After the interview was closed Judge Bocci stated that he would entertain any objections to the passage of this bill by any group or individual who cared to visit him at his office in Daly City, California.

Belmont Mother Argues That Juvenile Hall Bond Issue Would Be Wasted Money

Dear Sir:

The Juvenile Hall bond issue is mainly, according to their own argument, "to cover the needs of the next ten to fifteen years. No wonder juvenile delinquency increases when we resign ourselves to such a pessimistic and unintelligent approach. The idea of expecting juvenile delinquency to increase along with the growth of population is a defeatist argument. A farmer does not build a bigger barn and hire more help in the expectation of decreasing his herd.

We spent $264,741.00 last year for the operation of the probation department. If this $400,000.00 bond issue passes the operational cost will eventually soar to a half million dollars per year.

Would it not be wiser to take the money and invest it in badly needed facilities for the forces of PREVENTION? We have the YMCA and the YWCA programs, and we have the Boy and Girl Scout movements, and we have the city recreation departments all in need of facilities to carry on their great work. Many do not even have a place to hold a meeting let alone carry out an activity program. We have the San Mateo County Council of Social Services, and the Child Guidance clinic, both engaged in preventative work, and both badly in need of larger quotas for operational costs.

If we really want to whip this great problem of juvenile delinquency we must concentrate more on PREVENTION and give all youth groups more support, morally, physically, and financially. Lets spend our tax dollar where it promises to reap up some returns.

Smith Thinks Westlake Developer Should Provide Land, Equipment for Residents

October 15, 1952

Editor
Daly City Record
Daly City, California
Dear Sir:

It will be interesting, I am sure, to note the motives that will be ascribed to my ad in this week's Record. We are even going to hear about the "Smith Political Machine"—whatever that is—trying to get back into power. Since accusations in that respect usually are the result of any proposal for a more sensible, dignified and economical city administration, I could feel complimented and claim credit for it, except that some one might ask me what the "Smith Political Machine" is and I would be stuck for an answer.

It's now 12 years since my political opposition bestowed upon me the blessing of retirement from 22 years of public office life back to private life—the opportunity to look after my own business, the added blessing of becoming acquainted with and more fully enjoying my family, as well as the blessing of feeling 20 years younger that I did 12 years ago. With the thought in mind that I had done my share in taking part in government, I have since that retirement refrained from even expressing opinions on politics or public matters unless they seemed unusually important.

The status of our city and its future as the result of that status I regard as one of the most important matters that have ever come before us; consequently my concern and my feeling that it is my public duty to become interested in it.

Quite naturally I could be wrong, and my concern and worries unwarranted and your support of proposals now before us in order, and if the people see fit to go forward as we are, I most sincerely hope that time will prove that such is the case.

I suppose I have "funny" ideas at times, but I am old fashioned enough to really believe that since the developer of Westlake has profited several millions of dollars by becoming a part of Daly City, it would not be out of order to expect him to forego, temporarily at least, another ¾ of a million dollar yacht, (see an interstng article on Page five of the Chronicle of October 14) and try to be of some help to those who have purchased his homes by doing something toward providing sites for fire houses, and sites for them, a water supply, reservoirs, fire apparatus, a fire alarm system, etc. for that area, instead of having those home owners further encumber their homes with hundreds of thousands of dollars of bonds for such purposes.

If this letter and the ad in your paper serve no other purpose, I am sure they will serve as good ammunition for the distorting and machinating operation of Daly City's million dollar political propaganda machine as it goes into operation any time that the people of our city exhibit any evidence of their becoming interested in conducting their own city business.

Sincerly yours,
H. H. Smith

Duck Clubs, Individuals May Feed Waterfowl

Immediate authorization for duck hunting clubs and individuals to feed waterfowl in certain Central Valleys areas has been announced by the Secretary of the Interior in Washington, D. C., with the "full approval" of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the California Department of Fish and Game.

The surprise announcement relaxes the long-standing "no feeding" regulation. It was necessary California Department Director Seth Gordon revealed, because of extensive agricultural crop depredations by waterfowl in the Central Valleys.

The emergency ruling was announced concurrently at a San Francisco meeting of the California Joint Wildlife Committee, called to consider the waterfowl damage problem. Gordon and California fish and game commissioners earlier this year urged adoption of similar feeding provisions in the Federal law.

Gallen Points Out Why Prop. No. 3 Should Be Passed

Dear Editor:

A nearly complete canvass of the Daly City-Colma voters for a "YES" vote on Proposition No. 3 reveals an overwhelming majority in favor of the measure.

Forty-seven states grant tax exemptions to non-profit, private schools, leaving California the only state in the Union to tax these schools on the elementary and high school level. A "YES" vote on Proposition No. 3 would free them from taxation.

These private schools do not compete with tax-supported, free, public schools. "They are," as Dr. Alexander Stoddard, superintendent of schools of Los Angeles, points out, "worthy partners of public schools, an integral part of our American system of education."

The exemption of these schools from taxation cannot be considered as a subsidy to them. The cost of building and operating non-profit schools is borne solely by parent-taxpayers who also pay taxes to support the public schools. The State does not contribute one cent to the non-profit, private schools and no one is requesting that the State do so.

No one will argue that tax exemptions granted to churches, hospitals, homes for the aged, YMCAs, YWCAs, fraternal societies, veterans, cemeteries, universities and colleges are a subsidy. On the other hand, non-profit, private schools are actually subsidizing public education in California by educating 183,000 children, thus relieving the taxpayers of $41,000,000 annually. In Daly City and Colma, this subsidy to public education amounts to $230,600 yearly or a saving to each tax payer in this area of $30.00 a year. In addition, according to the State's figures, it would cost the taxpayers $350,000,000 to provide school buildings and equipment to accommodate these pupils. Annual maintenance, the annual cost of paying bonded indebtedness and depreciation would add about $30,000,000 to the bare education cost. A conservative estimate of various items shows that the aggregate, bare, education cost to the State to educate the children now attending the non-profit, private schools would be not less than $71,000,000 annually or more than 102 times the amount of taxes now being collected from these schools.

A "YES" vote on Proposition No. 3 will be an answer to the plea for help from the schools for the handicapped. There are 58 schools for deaf-mutes, the cerebral-palside, spastic, epileptic and mentally retarded children in California. These schools must now pay taxes. Mrs. Lucinda Weeks, principal of the Lucinda Weeks School for epileptic and spastic children appeals to all Californians to vote "YES" on Proposition No. 3 in order that this type of school can continue and broaden the scope of their efforts to aid handicapped children.

The Record is commended for its endorsement of Proposition No. 3. The only publication urging a "No" vote was the San Francisco People's World.

Many voters are in complete agreement with the position of Adrian J. Falk, former President of the San Francisco Board of Education and State Vice-President for Proposition No. 3, who states, "Nothing can be politically right that is morally wrong, and no necessity can sanctify a law that is contrary to equity."

Sincerely,
Thomas Gallen, attorney, and Chairman of Daly City-Colma-Broadmoor-Garden Village Citizens' Committee

Jos. Calderaro, owner of the Mid-City Food Center at 6718 Mission street here, got the worst part of the bargain in the sale of a home freezer last weekend.

The check, drawn on the South San Mateo branch of the Bank of America, turned out to be worthless, he told police.

National Fire Prevention Week Here Is Acclaimed Success by Local Firemen

National Fire Prevention week wound up in Daly City last Sunday and the general concensus was that the whole thing was well received.

Only hope of the Fire department, said Mel Hansen, who had charge of the week's activities, was that some of the more important aspects of fire prevention would remain in the people's minds.

One of the most well attended events during the week was a fire prevention show given Saturday at the firehouse of Santa Barbara and Parkview streets.

Approximately 850 children turned up to see how firemen operate.

Wayne Alexander and Dick May showed the children, many of whom arrived an hour early for the program, equipment and explained its working to them.

Two movies on fire prevention, one a comedy, were also shown.

Interested onlookers then went outside to the yard, where a small house was erected. The house was ignited, while the fire engine stood in waiting down the street. With sirens and bells clanging and firemen bedecked in their array, the confligration was squelched, with one fireman even donning his gas mask, much to the delight of the children.

Hansen said the Saturday show had the largest attendance in the history of fire prevention week programs. Next year, he said, the show will be put on at a site which can accommodate more people.

During fire prevention week, the local department distributed 25,000 pieces of literature, not including that given to children. Movies were also shown before every child within the city limits and fire drills were held in every school here.

STEELHEAD FISHING

Steelhead fishing continues fair on the Sacramento River in the Vicinity of Hamilton City in Glenn County, reports the National Automobile Club.

All organic compounds are derived from sugar.

FIFTY YEARS OF MARITAL BLISS will be celebrated tomorrow by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bigazzi, 145 Santa Cruz avenue, Daly City.

The Bigazzis, who were married in Chicago in 1902, moved to Daly City in 1906, after the earthquake in San Francisco that year made life untenable for them there.

Eleven children have been born to them in this county. Six are married while three single boys live at home and two of the children are deceased.

The pioneer couple also have 13 grand children and four great grand children.

Mr. Bigazzi was a member of the local fire department in its infant days here. At present he is a member of the veterans' fire department. He is also a member of the Eagles.

Mrs. Bigazzi said she and her husband would probably spend their Golden Wedding anniversary quietly at home.

OUR SCHOOLS ARE IN TROUBLE! Because of the inflation, soaring birth rate, and huge out-of-State population increase since the end of the War, most school districts in California today just don't have enough money to make ends meet!

PROPOSITION 2 IS THE ANSWER. Proposition 2 gives school children and taxpayers both a break by increasing the State's share of school support—thus keeping our schools open without increasing the tax burden on homeowners.

WE ALL WANT BETTER SCHOOLS. We may differ deeply on election day over candidates and other ballot issues, but we all agree our children's educational needs must be met. That's why Democrats and Republicans, labor, business and farmers, all say: Whatever you do—

This is believed to be the first dance of its kind given in this area. The benefits from this unusual dance will enable the club to purchase gifts for hundreds of children who gather every year at the club's annual childrens Christmas Party, sponsored by the members. Dan Casentini, president of the club, praises all members for their hard work in giving this notable affair. Mr. Casentini also thanks the Daly City Record for their fine support in bringing this news to the public.

Social security wage credits of $160 may now be given for each month of active military service since July, 1947, under the same conditions as they have been for service during World War II. This extension of the period for which social security credits can be allowed for military service is of immediate importance to survivors of men and women who served in the armed forces after the end of World War II and particularly to the survivors of those who died in the Korean campaign.

Fireman's Holiday Not Entirely Unlike Postman's

A WEDDING BEFITTING A FIREMAN was the ceremony held Saturday at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, uniting George De Bono, 298 Oliver, of the local fire department, and Viola Payne, 515 Evergreen. Local firemen brandished axes but, as is plainly visible, had no malice aforethought. At left is Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy. A reception at Co. 4 house followed the nuptials. The couple then departed on their honeymoon for parts known only to them. This novel type of exit pictured here is the first of its kind in Daly City.

VERDUCCI'S SAN FRANCISCO GATORS GO AFTER BIG GAME TOMORROW NIGHT

Cal Poly Squad Leads Conference This Year

After having disposed of the two leading teams in the Southern California Conference, Coach Joe Verducci's San Francisco State footballers try to fry a larger fish this week.

The Independent Gators travel to San Luis Obispo, where they meet Cal Poly Saturday night. Coach Roy Hughes' Mustangs are currently leading the California Collegiate Athletic Conference and the Gators will be on the short end for the first time this year. The CCAA is a considerably stronger league than the Southern California loop and is consistently the strong hold of California "middle time football."

Cal Poly Impressive

After losing to Sul Ross and Bradley in intersectional games, Cal Poly has rolled over San Diego State, 20-18, and Santa Barbara, 19-0.

The Gators have whipped Pepperdine, 21-0, Whittier, 28-26, and Occidental, 14-0. The latter two teams usually dominate the Southern Cal league.

Gators Ground Gainers

Coach Verducci's Gators have rolled to 1225 yards against 528 for the opposition. They have held opponents to a mere 244 on the ground, while chalking up 720.

Yet, State has not jelled as a team. The Gators haven't capitalized on their yardage bulge and from one to two touchdown's are called back in every game because of penalties. Maury Duncan's 39-yard TD pass to George Wehner and Harry Bremond's 85-yard run-back of an intercepted toss in the closing seconds were both nullified against Occidental.

Duncan, States junior quarterback, has passed for 488 yards in three games, completing 22 out of 44. Four of his tosses have been intercepted.

John O'Shea, right halfback, is the team's leading runner with 332 yards on 53 cracks.

A Reunion

The Saturday night tussle will feature a reunion between Cal Poly's Stan Sheriff and State freshmen Bob Lualhati and Larry Connover. All three boys attended Washington High in San Francisco. Sheriff was just finishing his second year as an All-San Francisco center when Lualhati and Connover enrolled at Washington. Sheriff is now the Mustangs' top lineman, Lualhati is a starting offensive left half and Connover opens at linebacker for the defensive team.

Indians Meet Burlingame

First League Game Finds Jeffs Pitted Against One Of League's Top Elevens

After two not-too-decisive losses, the Jefferson High Indian gridders enter their first league encounter tonight against Burlingame, rated tops in the league.

Coach Joe McGrath, making his debut as varsity coach in league play here, will be without the services of first string end Jim Minor, who suffered a chipped ankle in the Mt. View game. Minor, who nabbed six passes in that game, is expected to be out of action about five weeks.

Only other injuries are Tackles Bill Allen, who has a bad wrist, and Paul Kent, who is having trouble with his leg.

McGrath considers Burlingame the top team in the league, and his opinion is backed up by the Panthers' 21-7 win last week over Palo Alto, defending champions.

The Indians scrimmaged up through Wednesday this week and looked in good shape, McGrath said. They worked under the lights last night at San Francisco State's field to get used to playing under illumination.

The Jeff coach says that his squad is capable of taking the Burlingame team if they play up to their potential.

Probable starting lineup tonight will be: Charley Carroll, Butler, ends; Joe Earnshaw, Vic Irons, tackles; Jack Thur, John Geertsen, guards; Jack Madden, center; Mario Leveroni, left half; Wally Honeywell, right half; Ray Rosa, quarterback; Nick Bockwinkel, fullback.

The Curry agency headquarters is located at 98 Post street.

Night Accidents Claim Many More Victims

Californians are two to three times as likely to die in traffic accidents at night than in the daytime, the California Highway Patrol said today.

On a mileage basis the Patrol said that many more fatalities occur during darkness and pointed out that the approach of winter and the return to standard time have tacked on even more danger hours.

Out of almost 3000 fatal traffic accidents in California last year, more than half occurred during the hours of darkness when traffic volume was at its lowest.

Local Man Escapes Death After Fall In Swimming Pool

An aged Daly City man narrowly escaped death recently when he wandered into a yard at a San Mateo home and fell into the pool in the darkness.

A tarpaulin stretched across the swimming pool averted what might have been tragedy.

Charles Schmalz, 77, of 235 Winchester street, had wandered into the Westsmith backyard and fallen into the swimming tank, which was covered by the tarp.

He was covered by water on top of the tarpaulin, but suffered no ill effects other than a soaking, according to police. Schmalz could not explain how he got to San Mateo, police said. An officer drove him to Millbrae, where a Daly City police car picked him up and returned him to his home.

COLMA BULLDOGS STILL UNDEFEATED IN CITY RECREATION LEAGUE PLAY

The Colma Bulldogs, led by the passing of Dan Rasmussen and the receiving of Rich Duncan, continued on the victory trail by defeating the O.L.P.H. Lions 13-6 in Saturdays Recreation League feature game. The Bulldogs triumph was a tremendous team effort and credit must be given to Bob Giesiker, Larry Ziegler, Bill Clark, James Hawthorne, Ronald Mooney, Mike Donham, Gary Attebury and Gary Fairchild, who were all outstanding on both offense and defense. The Bulldogs, who are undefeated in league play, are now favored to capture the league title.

Uphill Battle

The O.L.P.H. Lions, led by Martinelli and Bob Nunes, fought an uphill battle all the way but were unable to match the fire and hustle of the Bulldogs. Lee Casentini, Frank Cordellos, Don Wickerle, Jackie Bautista, Dick Garabaldi and Ronald Bell played their usual fine game, but will have to play harder to overcome this loss in their three remaining league games.

Panthers Go Wild

The Colma Panthers ran wild over the Colma Giants in the other A league game. Passes from George Rocchi to Bobby Brandt and Roy Corner filled the air as the Pantherst roared to a 32-0 victory over the helpless Giants. Young spectators were also thrilled by some fancy running by Eddie Leveroni and Rocchi. Big Bob Brandt also looked good as he intercepted a pass and tip-toed 60 yards down the sidelines to a touchdown.

Eagles Show Power

The Colma Eagles, led by Paul Tapia and Larry Caratti, appeared to be the steamrollers of the B league in their 46-0 shutout over a game but undermanned Wildcat team. John Miller, James Wilson, Tapia and Bill Brown looked good in some fine pass receiving. Tapia and Caratti also showed some sensational broken field running, aided by some fine blocking by Dennis Mark. The Wildcats led by Phil Green, Dale Weibel, Jim Gustafson, Tom Hill and Mike Deal showed a fine ground defense but need a great deal of practice defending against passes.

The O.L.P.H. Rams also had a field day while running up a 32-0 victory over the Colma Mustangs. Passes from Bill Bricker to Anthony Stagnero, Eddie Colman, Bill Murphy and Ronnie Rose accounted for the scoring. Murphy also looked good completing a pass to Bricker for a T.D.

PALLADIUM GAINING IN USE

Wedding and engagement rings created entirely of palladium, a precious metal of the platinum group, are gaining wide acceptance among brides. Although one hundred times rarer than gold, palladium sells in the same price range, making it particularly attractive from an economical standpoint.

Midway Point

The season has now come to the midway point with each team playing all the other teams once more before the playoff games. Including Saturdays games, it appears to be a race between the Colma Bulldogs and the O.L.P.H. Lions in the A league, but both will be sorry if they become over confident and count the Colma Panthers out. The B league race narrows down to the Colma Eagles and the O.L.P.H. Rams. Again, both teams will be sorry if they let down and forget about the other two hard fighting teams.

Saturday's Schedule

Bulldogs vs. Giants
Panthers vs. O.L.P.H. Lions
B League:
Mustangs vs. Eagles
Wildcats vs. O.L.P.H. Rams

NO OPTIMISM HERE

Coach Joe Verducci was not too optimistic about this week's tilt with Cal Poly, leaders of the California Collegiate Athletic association.

The councilman-coach said yesterday that this will be the San Francisco Gators toughest game to date.

"If the team can play as a unit for an entire game and get away from fumbling, we have a good chance," Verducci said. However, he pointed out, the Mustangs have two very strong backfield men, superior tackles, center, and one outstanding guard. He said the Gators should have it over the opposition in the end department.

RIORDAN HIGH DOWNS JEFFERSON VARSITY

In inter-league apprentice game last week, Riordan High school of San Francisco defeated Jefferson, 18 to 0.

The Riordan team scored one touchdown in each of the first three quarters.

Jefferson drove 40 yards to the Riordan 20 with four minutes to go in the game, but the threat was wiped out when Jeff fullback Nick Bockwinkel fumbled.

John Lanzavecchia scored for Riordan in the first period from 14 yards out and then jogged 94 yards in the second period for the next score. A 12-yard pass from Ray Arata to Dick Hodge in the third period netted Riordan its third touchdown.

In The Past

TEN YEAR AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Oct. 15 — "Be sure that every shade on every window of the house is drawn to cover the full length of the house," announced Arthur J. Bodien, Daly City's dimout officer, in outlining the duties of local residents in respect to the Western Defense Command's new and more rigid restrictions for dimout areas. Through the office of Civilian Defense in the ninth region, Bodien, who is also director of civilian defense here, announced Tuesday that a lighting expert is expected to visit Daly City soon and offer additional explanation of all dimout rules.

Civilian defense in the town of Colma lost its two most important men this week, as the resignations of John H. Price, director, and Bradford S. Welsh, assistant director, were announced. Both men are going into the service of the country. Price has enlisted in the United States Navy and is awaiting orders to report for duty. Welsh has joined the Merchant Marine service and expects to leave in the next few days.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Oct. 15 — Daly City merchants and civic leaders are cooperating to the fullest extent in assuring success to one of the greatest events ever staged in this community.

The two-day festival, Oct. 23 and 24, will be attended by more than 6000 members and friends of the Italian Catholic Federation from all parts of the state.

Described as holding her own in her fight for life, attractive Miss Flora Regan, 18, Daly City accident victim, had regained partial consciouness in the Villa hospital at this time.

The girl was struck by an automobile driven by Charles Rattard, 65, grocery store proprietor of 7339 Mission street, as she stood in a safety zone at Evergreen avenue and Mission street, late Monday afternoon of this week. Rattard was charged with reckless driving and released on $250 bail.

Five vacancies in the Daly City fire department were filled by appointment when the City Council convened Monday evening this week.

Firemen selected are: Peter Oyhancabal, company 3; R. E. Foss, Company 1; and T. P. Tallon, Company 5.

New fire commissioners will be J. L. Ferro of Company 3, and R. J. Ennis of Company 5.

A resolution to pave Westlake avenue between Junipero Serra boulevard and Niantic street was adopted. The wage and hour scales were fixed in accordance with those prevailing in this vicinity.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Oct. 14 — The proposed annexation of Colma to Daly City met with defeat at the election held in Jefferson hall, Colma, last Saturday, there being 209 votes cast, of which 87 were for annexation, 122 against.

The result proved a surprise to the advocates of annexation, as there had seemed to be no general opposition to the plan, but evidently those who favored a continuance of affairs in Colma as they have been in the past were waiting until the last moment to do their talking, and voting.

Chief of Police Jack Doyle had a narrow escape from death last Monday, being alive today only because of the fact that a shotgun shell failed to explode. The shotgun pressed against Boyle's body failed to fire after the trigger had clicked against the cartridge.

Chief Doyle had earlier received a frantic call from Mrs. Willia McLean, 743 Bellevue avenue, who declared that her husband was in possession of a shotgun and had threatened her and her daughter.

When Chief Doyle arrived at the McClean home he was admitted and informed that Mr. McLean had gone out of the house, passing through a back door. Doyle followed and as he stepped out of the back door, McLean pressed a shotgun into his side and, with an oath, declared, "I am going to kill you." Chief Doyle, in a soothing tone, advised the crazed man not to shoot, but to give up his gun. Doyle was still talking to him when McLean again declared, "I am going to kill you," and pulled the trigger. The cartridge failed to explode, and Chief Doyle grappled with the crazed man, soon overpowered him, and later took him to the county jail.

Tormey Appointed Head Of State Committee

Appointment of James R. Tormey, San Mateo County Schools superintendent, to head one of the major financial committees of the California County Schools Superintendents association was announced today by Alvin Rhodes, president of the state association.

Tormey will be chairman of the Service Fund Formula committee of the state association. This is the committee which is charged with preparing a plan for distribution of state funds to the county schools offices for action by State Superintendent Roy A. Simpson. These state funds provide from 75 to 100 per cent of the finances available to county schools offices.

Tormey was also appointed a member of the constitution committee of the state association.

Dramatists, Behind the Scenes Personnel Working Hard on Jefferson High Show

A fine cast and production staff are now working hard on the comedy to be presented at Jefferson high school on Oct. 23 and 24.

Miss Eunice Seaton, Jefferson's drama teacher, is directing the play. Miss Seaton has worked untiringly in putting this play into proper shape. Miss Seaton is perhaps the finest drama teacher Jefferson has ever had.

The student director is Ron Dickson. Ron is a fine worker and a good student. He has worked the hardest of any of the people connected with the play.

In charge of publictiy is Bob Bridges. On his committee are Jim Rector, Jan Sproule, Joanne Gordohn and Shirley Rasor.

Dona Sharpe is doing a fine job of selling the tickets. She is chairman of the ticket sales committee. On her committee are Jim Rector, Irving Waldman, Shirley Rasor, Drena Garaldi, Audry Wheeler and Bob Bridges.

The head of the prop committee is Ron Christenson.

Audrey Wheeler, a sophomore, will play the part of Carole, a very vain movie actress. This is Audrey's first play. She has done very well in the part.

Janice Sproule, Jeff's veteran actress, will be old Aunt Kate Barnaby. You've probably seen Jan in other plays such as "Stage Door," "Family Circle," "A Murder Has Been Arranged," and "The Miser."

Joanne Gordohn is cast in the part of Gladys Kelcey, a stage struck young girl. Jo has taken over the part at short notice, and is doing a fine job on it.

Irving Waldman is playing the part of Gene Tuttle, Carole Arden's Public Relations Man. Irving is a junior.

Bob Schlapfer will be Bud Norton, a typical American boy. Bob is doing a very fine job in the part.

Eileen De Bernardi will be cast in the part of Joyce Struthers, who is engaged to Bud Norton. Eileen is a sophomore; this is her first play at Jeff.

Shirley Rasor is to play Mrs. Struthers, Joyce's mother. You've probably seen Shirley in "A Murder Has Been Arranged." Shirley is a fine actress and a good student.

Bob Bridges is cast in the part of Clyde Pelton, a typical country ad. Bob was seen last year in "The Miser."

Jim Rector will be Johnson, the chauffeur. Jim is a sophomore.

Aline De Baton is to play Jessie, the maid. Barbara is a sophomore.

We would like to thank Miss Reandou, for printing the tickets. We would also like to thank The Record for printing these articles about the play.

Tickets are only fifty cents. They are sold by Godfrey's Ice Cream, Bob Bridges, Donna Sharpe, Jim Rector and Irving Waldman.

TROUT TAKEN

Many fine catches of trout have been taken during the past few days on the Kern River in Kern County, reports the National Automobile Club.

Are we on the Right Track?

My attempt to look into the future of our city gives me much concern and brings to my mind many questions such as:

1. Will the people of the former Daly City be called upon time and time again to vote bonds in order that the Westlake area may have the necessary services, buildings, water supply, reservoirs, fire department, fire alarm system, fire houses, fire apparatus, police department, library, playgrounds, etc.—all those things not provided by the subdividers and builders of the Westlake area, and which the former Daly City section has provided for itself throughout the years?

2. Will the coming necessary bond issues of about one million dollars for schools and a bond issue for a probably one-half million dollars for sewage disposal cause the voters of the former Daly City area to become fed up with bond issues?

3. If they should become fed up and refuse to stand for more bond issues for the Westlake area as it expands time and again as far as territory will allow, what will be the solution of that problem? (There are enough voters in the former Daly City to defeat any bond issue for Westlake if they decide to do so and that will be the situation for many years.)

4. Is it a favorable situation wherein the former Daly City is under a political control from the new section, and wherein it is possible that an unlimited amount of money can be spent in that area for maintaining that political control, and spent most profitably?

5. Will it be of any benefit to Westlake to continue as a part of Daly City?

6. Will it be of any benefit to the former Daly City to continue as a part of the larger city when in time it will be the outlying, forgotten area—"The section across the tracks" in the years ahead?

7. Have any benefits come to the former Daly City area by reason of the annexation of Westlake?

8. Has it meant any benefits to the business or businessmen of the former Daly City?

9. Have any benefits come to our homeowners and taxpayers of the former Daly City by reason of annexing Westlake?

10. Will our supply of our unexcelled well water be sufficient to supply the large city as it grows and grows?

11. If not, will it be necessary to purchase outside and not as good water to supplement the supply?

12. Which section will get which water or will it be a mixture of both for the whole city?

13. When we are compelled to purchase outside water, will we be roped in on that "goofy" and ridiculous flouride fad wherein the whole population is compelled to drink "doped up" water on the unproved theory that it will be helpful to prevent decay in the teeth of certain ages.? If flourided, where will that outside water be so treated?

14. When water is purchased, will it also mean a higher water rate to the whole city? (The year 1951 is the only year in which our municipal water system paid out more than it took in. Did the necessity for purchasing water contribute to that situation?)

15. When it becomes necessary to have a larger Civic Center and civic setup—City Hall, library, etc.—will the voters of Westlake vote bonds to put it in the old area? Why should they when such things belong in the center of the city?

16. Will the people of the former Daly City vote to put the Civic Center in Westlake?

17. What will be the solution of the problems I herein mention and many more when we continue as a city of two sections with interests so far apart and yet with each in a position to exert such an influence and control over the other?

18. Now that annexation to Daly City has served its purposes for Westlake, will it be of any benefit to Westlake to continue as a part of Daly City?

19. If having Westlake as a part of Daly City is of no benefit to the former Daly City, why continue as is?

20. Do not the problems before us, problems which will ever increase and become more and more complicated as the years go by, dictate a study and solution at this time?

21. Is not the answer the division of our city into two cities, Daly City and Westlake?

22. Would it not be to the benefit of both sections to make that decision and that division now?

Personally, I am sufficiently concerned over the whole future outlook to hereby offer a contribution of $500.00 toward a fund, the purpose of which will be the placing before the voters the question of the division of Daly City into two cities, Daly City and Westlake.

It is a simple matter to divide the city now if the majority of voters so desire, now before the water bonds are voted. I know of no way in which it can be done after the water bonds are voted because of the complications that will arise by reason of the fact that those bonds are to be paid off with the profits. (Could it be that it has been so planned?)

In case it should be claimed that a larger city means lower cost of government, I call attention to the following data compiled from annual financial reports as submitted by our city to the State Controller.

Principal Government Services

PRINCIPAL INTRODUCES TEACHERS AT JAMES L. SNELL PTA MEETING

Starting the Fall term with a meeting crowded with plans and projects for unit activities for unit activities, the James L. Snell Parent-Teacher association met Wednesday night, Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. in the community center on White street. Wielding the gavel was Mrs. Larry Green, president, who expressed her gratitude at the large turnout.

First item on the agenda was to have the teachers at the Garden Village school introduced by the principal, Miss Aileen E. Suber. Following this the new room mothers were introduced by the room mother chairman, Mrs. Donald Hurst. As a method of getting acquainted, the mothers of each classroom's children stood to be identified with their children's teachers. With so many new teachers and new students this year, it was easy to see just how fast the school has grown.

Budget chairman, Mrs. Ernest Golladay, presented and explained the 1952 budget, which the unit approved; thereby voting into being the fund raising projects recommended for the year. These include a fashion tea as the major project, with rag drives, coat hanger drives, and card parties to supplement the budget needs.

The unit was honored to have as their guest, Mrs. George Beanston, 6th vice president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Beanston spoke to the assembly very entertainingly on parent-teacher work, drawing from her own background of many years experience. Mrs. Beanston's warm humor and friendliness combined to give a most refreshing talk.

Plans for the rainwear drive are nearing completion, and the collection will be held at the November general meeting. It was explained that this drive is a means of pooling outgrown galoshes, raincoats, and rain hats, so that the teachers may draw upon it for emergency measures; for instance in the case of sudden showers, which might leave some of their charges unprepared for the homeward trek.

Membership chairman, Mrs. R. N. Hilton, announced that to date over half the goal of 400 memberships that the committee has set for themselves has been reached, and urged all to get busy and send in their dollars in time to meet the November 1st quota deadline. It was later announced that Mrs. Shields afternoon kindergarten class had won the attendance prize, with a 52 per cent attendance at the meeting. Therefore her class will be allowed their choice of books as the prize.

Before adjourning, the unit was pleased to hear from a representative from the Hillcrest home, Mr. Loren A. Beckley, Supt. of San Mateo Juvenile Hall, who gave an enlightening talk on the problems of Hillcrest, and why it so important to have the bond issue passed. He explained that Hillcrest is neither a correctional institution nor an orphanage, but merely a temporary refuge for juveniles while authorities work to solve their problems. He also explained that through the years the function of juvenile halls has changed considerably from the original institutions, which were sort of "humane jails of custody" to the present-day type, which are more concerned with observation and treatment." Due to the same old story of too rapid population increases, we are faced with immediate needs for new buildings and additional segragational facilities," Mr. Beckley said in closing," and unless we prepare for the future as well as the present, our situation will steadily grow worse."

After adjournment, the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Raymond Duste, and her committee served a lovely assortment of refreshments. Each officer, teacher and chairman had been presented with a gardenia corsage, and it was generally agreed that the first meeting had launched a new term which promises to be full to the brimming of activity and pleasant associations. Those serving with Mrs. Duste for the evening's hospitality were half of the first grade room mothers, which included Mesdames Ben Marowiaz, Warren Vocke, Parker Garner, Alan Sherman, Jack Lagoria, Arthur Hess, William Rice, and Carl Johnson.

DALY CITY MAN WILL BE AMONG CULINARY ARTISTS AT EXHIBIT

When top chefs in the world gather Oct. 27 at Polk hall, Civic auditorium in San Francisco, one of the foremost chefs de cuisine present will be Jean Joaquin, who lives at 65 Cottonwood drive in Daly City.

Paris-born Joaquin, who is now head chef at Sabella's restaurant, Marin county, has been working for months preparing his exhibits to be entered in the Culinary Art Exhibit, billed as one of the most unusual events of its kind ever to take place on the west coast.

A long-time master at preparing cuisine, Joaquin was named outstanding food-preparer in all Europe in 1936.

Last year he won first prize in an Oakland food exhibit and the previous year he won honors as outstanding food preparer in Chicago.

In the six month Joaquin has labored on his exhibits, a ship, an almond paste church window scene, and a lobster, he has spent four and five hours a day at his artistic endeavor.

The ship is made entirely of sea animals' shells which have been filled with plaster of paris.

Joaquin will also enter eatable exhibits, but preparation of these will have to wait until one or two days before the show.

At Joaquin's home in Daly City there is plenty of testimony to his artistic ability. He not only employs his skill along culinary lines, but paints as well. The walls of his home are festooned with his works of art which he does when not serving in a chef's capacity.

In the cooking field 31 years, Joaquin said that he inherited his culinary talent and interests from his family.

Present at Joaquin's home when THE RECORD interviewed him was Jack W. Meyer, Chef at the Mark Hopkins and Chairman of the committee in charge of the culinary art show. Meyer, one of the most renowned chefs in this country, outlined the purposes of the coming show.

He said the program was being held to revive interest in the culinary arts, to revive pride in food preparation, and to install and enthusiasm among chefs to work for one goal.

San Francisco, long known for its elegance in cuisine, will add one more laurel to its names with the holding of the Culinary Art Exhibit Oct. 27.
